PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENTS

2019– Associate Librarian for Scholarly Communication
Associate Professor
Mina Rees Library, CUNY Graduate Center

Continuation of 2013–2018 position. After initiating restructuring of library’s organizational units and co-authoring Library Department’s first governance plan, focused attentions on scholarly communication initiatives. Priorities include enabling public access to GC-authored scholarship in the CUNY Academic Works repository and offering instruction and one-on-one consultations about open access, copyright, fair use, publication contracts, journal evaluation, research metrics, and more. Supervise Digital Services Librarian, who coordinates digital preservation efforts. Oversee adjunct librarians’ work on scholarly communication projects. Collaborate with Head of Reference on the Open Knowledge Fellowship and other projects, and with CUNY’s University Scholarly Communications Librarian on advancing open access and sound scholarly communication policies across CUNY. Act as subject librarian for mathematics, computer science, philosophy, audiology, and speech-language-hearing sciences. Actively engage in departmental governance and committee work. Assume additional coordination and supervisory responsibilities as needed.

2013–2018 Associate Librarian for Public Services and Scholarly Communication
Associate Professor
Mina Rees Library, CUNY Graduate Center

Oversaw reference, instruction, outreach, circulation, interlibrary loan, scholarly communication, and thesis/dissertation services. Supervised numerous library faculty and staff, including Head of Reference, Head of Circulation and Reserves, Head of Library Resource Sharing, Digital Scholarship Librarian, and Dissertation Research Librarian. Participated in library management, planning, and policymaking. Provided reference service, in-depth research consultations, and in-class and topical workshops. Served as subject librarian for computer science, mathematics, physics, audiology, speech-language-hearing sciences, and occasionally other subjects.

2005–2013    Reference & Instruction Librarian
Assistant Professor (2006–2013), Instructor (2005–2006)
Library, Brooklyn College, City University of New York

Provided reference service in all subjects at the reference desk, by email, and via chat. Taught information literacy and citation management workshops. Led a CUNY-wide educational campaign about open access to scholarly literature. Served as subject librarian for computer science, mathematics, physics, and physical education and exercise science. Contributed to numerous special projects, including redesign of library website and educational enhancement of library art collection.

2001–2002    Librarian and Archivist, Dance Notation Bureau

2000–2001    Reference/Visual Resources Librarian, Boston Architectural Center
